LOS ANGELES, Cal, Feb 7—Out of the drug-frenzied setting of Hollywood's feverish "dope" parties, the slim, cool figure of one of filmdom's leading actresses stepped today to lead the police on a new trial in their hunt for the slayer of William Desmond Taylor, slain film director and man of mystery

She slopped from the sordid background as she had left a score of times the scenes of mad revelry—to make her way under the cloak

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 7—While searching among Taylor's effects, detectives found a letter bearing the name of Mary Miles Minter in a crest at the top.

ECHOES OF LOVE

"Dearest. I love you—I love you—I love you," read the letter. Then followed a row of nine crosses, under which was a larger cross The note ended

"Yours always, Mary."

WHEN MULTITUDE WAITED HOURS TO VIEW BODY OF POPE BENEDICT

Main photo shows thousands of devout mourners in line to enter St. Peter's cathedral to view the body of Pope Benedict XV as it lay in state. Smaller photo at right shows the body being carried into St. Peter's.

These photos, just received from Rome, are of the impressive scenes in connection with the death and burial of Pope Benedict XV. The reverence in which he was held by the people of Rome as well as all other parts of the world is indicated by the huge multitude that stood in line for hours to get a glimpse of the dead pontiff as his body lay in state in St Peter's cathedral.

ATTORNEY ATTACKS MAYOR FOR JAILING WOMAN BOOTLEGGE[illegible]

ATTORNEY HAMLIN FLAYS LAW-EN[illegible] FORCERS FOR JAILING LAW-VIOLA[illegible] TOR, WHO IS MOTHER OF FIVE—MAYOR JONES DECLARES HOMES O[illegible] ALL MUST BE PROTECTED FRO[illegible] VIOLATORS OF THE LAW

When Mayor Jones sent Mrs. Helen Kori[illegible] of Western Heights, to jail for failure to pay [illegible] fine of $500 and costs after she had been convicted of illegally having liquor in her possession, he did not dream that he would arouse the opposition of certain people who have taken sides on the question.

But Mayor Jones made it very clear last night that opposition, or no opposition, he expected to do his full duty by the rest of the citizens, no matter what came of it.

Would Release Woman

Attorney L D Hamlin addressed the council last night in the interest of Mrs Korin. It was a grand stand speech in an effort to create sentiment in her favor and secure her release. The fact that the council did not send Mrs. Korin to jail, and could not release her, made no difference to him. He wanted the public to know how he felt about it.

He stated that he had visited the Korin home as the representative of the Humane society He had found a thirteen-year-old girl taking care of four children, feeding them bread and molasses. He made up his mind that no matter what Mrs Korin had done he was going to do something to get her out of jail where she could care for her family who needed her.

"What do you men think of men who in a star chamber session will determine that no matter what the conditions they will not remit a liquor fine. I say it is a crime and an outrage that such a thing should be permitted. This woman is a poor ignorant thing that did not know any better. The men that are responsible for her incarceration are more guilty than she" he shouted, "before God and heaven that is a fact. I am not criticizing any public official unless they want to take it, and I hope some of them do I do want to appeal to the public against this sort of thing. Why don't the officials go and get the fellows who are backing up such as she and are manufacturing liquor for this purpose? I don't care if my remarks are quoted in the paper. If they are, I'll make some more, more drastic than these. Something should be done to put a stop to this sort of thing and I expect to shout all over the county until something is done," he concluded.

The large audience present, including three classes of foreigners from Western Heights sat breathless for a moment after Mr. Hamlin had closed. He at once left the room, as he stated that he was ill.

FOUR KILLED, MANY HURT IN VIRGINIA FIRE

At Least Twenty Are Missing and More Bodies May Be Taken From Ruins at Richmond — Brother and Sister Cremated in Another Blaze

RICHMOND, Va, Feb. 7—Four men were killed and 15 persons were injured, some seriously, in a fire which started in the Lexington hotel here early today and which was still burning at 9 o'clock,

At least twenty persons are missing and it is feared that other bodies will be found in the ruins

Three of the dead have been identified. They are: M. J. Fox, Williamsport, Pa; Hiram F Austin, Fincastle, Va; A. Johnson, Charlottesville, Va.

The fire is one of the most disastrous which has occurred in the state of Virginia in a score of years. At nine o'clock, firemen were still pouring water into the blazing wreckage in efforts to prevent the fire from spreading to adjoining buildings.

The origin of the fire had not been determined this morning and police expressed the belief that it would be impossible to learn the cause of the blaze The first alarm was turned in by a night clerk of the hotel shortly after 4 o'clock. The flames were spreading rapidly when firemen arrived and men and women who were asleep in the hotel rose terrified from their beds to find the blaze about them.

King Approves Disarm Parley Ratifications

Opens Parliament And Asks Enactment of Irish Free State at Earliest Period

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Lauding the Washington conference and express ing the hope that it may be possible at the Genoa economic conference "to establish peace on a fair basis throughout Europe and remedy unemployment at home," King George today delivered a speech from the throne opening the new session of parliament.

The king urged an early settlement of the Irish issue, adding that the "final establishing of the Irish free state as a partner in the British commonwealth of nations is anxiously awaited."

The chief business of the house of commons in the present session is:

1.—Enactment of a bill bringing the Irish free state into official existence.

2.—Ratification of the treaties drawn up at the Washington conference.

Prepare Vatican For Coronation Of Pope Pius XI

Ceremonies For Pope To Be Held Next Sunday—To Be Most Elaborate

ROME, Feb. 7—Pope Pius XI will not only continue the policy of the late Pope Benedict XV for reconciliation between the vatican and the Italian state, but also will lend the powerful assistance of the papacy toward the reconstruction of war-torn Europe, it was learned today from an authoritative source

That the election of the former archbishop of Milan for the chair of St. Peter was a popular one, is attested by the flood of congratulatory messages that are pouring into the vatican from all parts of the world.

The coronation will take place on Sunday, it being the tradition of the Roman church to conduct the ceremonies on the first holy day following the papal election in the conclave of cardinals

The ceremonies will take place in St Peters and the sistine chapel

Pope Democratic

ROME, Feb 7 -Pope Pius XI, who comes from the ranks of the "common people" is very democratic in his behavior. According to the newspaper Il Messagero today the new pontiff refused to permit the cardinals to kneel and kiss his feet when they approached him to pay their respects after his election.

There was keen disappointment that Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, arrived just too late to participate in the final ballot of the conclave. The American cardinal entered the conclave at 2 40 o'clock Monday afternoon and was received by Cardinal Gasparri

The conclave was not officially dissolved until four o'clock in the afternoon.

It was reported by the newspaper La Tribuna, that Cardinal O'Connell brought $2,000,000, representing American contributions to St. Peters Cardinal Daugherty, of Philadelphia, and Cardinal Begin, of Bin, of Quebec, are due on Friday. They will be in time to take part in the coronation rites.

Cardinal Gasparri has been reappointed papal secretary of state. He has been regarded as the chief leader of the so-called "peace party" in the sacred college which desires reconciliation with the quirinal.

SMALL ITEM OF IMPORTANCE AS ACTED UPON BY COUNCIL

The following minor items of business were transacted by the city council last evening.

The Canfield Oil Co. was granted permission to make certain changes in the northeast corner of Second street and East avenue, where they will erect a filling station on private property. Their lease on the station in front of the abstract office on Middle avenue expires soon and they have been unable to renew it. This station will be closed tonight.

Residents of Longfellow street applied to the council to have a storm water sewer installed. The sewer committee will report at the next meeting.

A petition was received to have the sanitary sewer on Oberlin road extended to the city limits.

A petition was filed asking that the pavement on Middle avenue be extended south as far as Maple street.

Another petition was filed by Councilman Carson askinng that Walnut street be paved from Lake avenue to Woodland avenue.

Permission was given the Moore Bros., concrete block manufacturers to run a switch from the B. & O. tracks to their premises. It will cross West street, and the company has agreed to keep the crossing in good condition.

Chief Stankard was given permission to buy a new Ford car for the use of his department. The old car is to be traded in making the cost of a new car $330, the money to come from the police contingent fund

The bill of S. E. Wurst for laying water mains on Samuel street, that has now been accepted by the city was ordered paid. He will receive $1,108.02 with interest from August, 1921

An open ditch from Prospect to Winckles street was ordered filed

A combination sewer on Tattersall court was ordered repaired.

ELYRIANS TO GET $627,665 NEXT JANUARY

Thrifty Elyria people who had the foresight to buy War Savings stamps of the 1918 issue are due to cash in enough money to keep the wolf from the door for a little while at least, on January 1st, 1923

Postmaster Seward states that there will be $627,665 in cold cash to be distributed through the Elyria office at that time During the war there were several issues of War Savings stamps and they were subscribed for freely the total amount running over the $2,000,000 mark. This will be the first series of stamps to be redeemed and those who are to benefit have reason to congratulate themselves on their foresight

NEW BUILDING TOO LOW FOR SEWER SYSTEM

Elyria Savings & Trust Co. in Erecting New Eight Story Building Finds New Sewer Is Necessary to Accommodate Block — Expense Leads to Long Discussion

H. M. Andress asked the city council for a sanitary sewer for the new building to be erected for the Elyria Savings & Trust Co., at the corner of Broad and Court street. He suggested that some route rom the corner of Court street to the sanitary sewer on West avenue should be devised. He also stated that the basement of the new building would be about fourteen feet deep and that the present sewer in front of the building was only thirteen feet deep. Unless a new sewer was put in the new building would have to install pumps to force the sewage up into the present sewer.

This request led to a long discussion. An attempt was made a year ago to secure the right of way in the rear of the buildings on the south side of Broad street for such a sewer but the property owners refused to give their consent as the scheme was dropped.

MAY CHARGE OUTSIDERS FOR FIREMEN

Fire Chief Bates believes that when the city fire department is called for service in the country near here they should be paid for their service, and the council should have a fixed price for such service. He has sent a communication to Director Beck expressing his views, and he put the question up to the council.

Cleveland, Lakewood and other cities charge for their services and there is no reason why Elyria should not A run was made recently to a point twelve miles distant, and the property was saved The department received but $10. for this service which did not any where near pay the cost. The question was referred to the fire and water committee.

CHANGING AGE PREVENTS HIS GOING TO PEN

Lester Perry of Lorain was placed on trial this morning in criminal court on a charge of criminal assault his victim being his daughter, not quite fourteen years of age Prior to today he strenuously denied his guilt, but changed his mind when faced by a jury, the girl and her mother.

He plead guilty and before sentence Judge Redington asked him how old he was He answered that he was 29, although previously he said he was 37 The Judge questioned his age, when dramatically Perry drew a small pocket Bible and placing both hands on it, said "Judge, I swear I am but 29 years old" Although it is believed he did not tell the truth, there was nothing to do but send him to the reformatory.

in a sewer of satisfactory depth is to go down Broad street. This would necessitate the tearing up of the new pavement and Mayor Jones, as well as many citizens are opposed to this plan. On the other hand, the residents of the south side of Broad street claim to be properly sewered at the present time, and are objecting to any further assessment If the new sewer is finally decided on injunction suits to restrain the city from collecting any further assessments are sure to be started

Mr Andress called attention to the sanitary sewer plan adopted by the city in 1915 which called for a sewer on Broad street of the depth required and thought this plan should be carried out

The matter was finally referred to the sewer committee and the city engineer to devise some satisfactory plan as it was agreed that the Banking Co. was entitled to a sewer that would take care of its needs have aroused suspicions of the Carlin officers A confederate appeared to be with the suspect, who remained in seclusion as much as possible

It was learned today that the prominent young New Yorker who had been mentioned frequently in connection with an alleged love affair, involving the murdered man and a film actress of the first magnitude, had been located in a Los Angeles hotel Officers rushed to interrogate the man, who has been much sought by the police within the last two days Following their questioning, however, it was announced that the New Yorker, scion of a wealthy eastern family had presented a complete alibi regarding his actions on the night the murder was committed.

Hunt for Woman.

From various authentic sources in high circles of the film industry, detectives today gleaned information that confirms theories held from the beginning that some woman, believed to be connected with the motion picture colony, either was directly connected with the murder or holds facts, which, if known would result in the solution of the crime and the probable apprehension of the murderer within a few hours.

On every hand, investigators reported that they had encountered what appeared to be a tendency to "cover up" or withhold information that would substantiate several possible motives for the crime.

SURE HELP TO SICK WOMEN

Mrs. Baker, so much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Anxious to Help Others

Lebanon, Indiana.—"I was completely run down from women's troubles and stomach trouble and for a long time was hardly able to do my work. I had some friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they told me about it. I know what it has done for me and I recommend it to others, as I am sure it will be a great help to all sick women. It is a wonderful medicine, and I give you permission to use my testimonial and my photograph." — Mrs. EMMA BAKER, 310 S. East St., Lebanon, Indiana.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject.

Mrs. Baker calls it "a wonderful medicine." If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you.

tion of police investigators, it was stated this morning, that several notable motion picture actresses would again be subjected to close examination in a new effort to wrest from them additional facts about the life, habits and associates of Taylor.

tirade and took in all that was said He calmly rose to his feet, but there was fire in his eyes "I agree with some things that Mr Hamlin has said" began the mayor, "but I am sorry he has gone for I want him to hear what I have to say. I want to impress on every person here that law and order shall prevail in this city Foreigners must realize that they cannot come here and upset the principles that it took our forefathers years of privation to establish If the case of Mrs Korin was the only one, it would stand in another light Do we want to continue to allow people to manufacture and sell this poison stuff that is now being placed on the market for every man with an appetite to get? We want to impress on their minds that they cannot do so without being punished I don't care whether Hamlin comes up here or not but in fact am glad that he did Your future home and my home are at stake in this controversy Mrs Korin is a widow, it is true, and she has a family It is also true that she has been aided and encouraged by several societies in the city. But she forgot what was done for her and went to selling liquor. Personally I had rather pay her fine myself than have sent her to jail, but if I let her go twenty more similar cases would spring up. People who break law must be impressed with the fact that if they are caught they will be punished If this country is to continue under stars and stripes we have got to see that the people obey the law. I am glad that these foreign classes from Western Heights are here. I want them to take back word that law must be respected and I want them to help me make this a better city. I have had Mrs. Korin's case in mind for some time, but she must be made to feel the weight of the law before she is released. I don't know why this question was brought before the council. They have nothing to do with it. I have instructed police to do their duty without fear or favor, and if they do I shall back them up to the limit. In this case I have done what I think is right When I go out of office I want to be able to look every person in the eye, and have them feel that I have protected their homes and children Mr. Hamlin only sees one side of this case. He can't see that what I do to her I must do to all The law is no respector of persons. You foreigners must remember that this city will be just what you make it. The lesson that Mrs Korin is being taught is a lesson that will be taken home by all of you I am looking forward and trying to hasten the day when such things will not be necessary"

Urges Co-Operation

When the mayor concluded, president of the Council Gerald Martin said that he had an opinion on the Korin case, but as he was in the chair, he would not express it at present. He suggested, however, that an unbaised committee be appointed to investigate her case and report back what they had found.

Mayor Jones then landed again. "The council has it's duty to perform, the president of the council has his duty, and I have mine. I am responsible for what takes place and no one else. I expect harmony in all departments of this government. Whether a man is appointed or elected by the people he should look after what he was chosen for, and not interfere in any other department. He should be allowed to solve his own problems without interference. Don't take it upon yourself to interfere and create any dissension in the ranks We have a fine lot of police and firemen, and I'll back them against the best in the state. If there is any complaint to be made go to the head of their department and make it, but don't butt in on another man's job, thereby causing trouble. If we cannot have harmony we had better quit. Let every man stick to his own job and there will be no trouble."

President Martin then took the floor, and stated that any one in his opinion had the privilege of taking up with the council any question they chose at any time "I am carrying out the wishes of the majority of the people, and am trying to give every one a square deal," he concluded.

DR. KIRBY'S SERMON

The special meetings at the M E. church started off Monday night the beginning of the fifth week with a capacity congregation and interest unbated.

Dr. Kirby, although wearied from his long and arduous campaign was at his best, preaching with convincing earnestness on "Counting the Cost." He declared it was not an easy thing to live a consistent christian life, that there were many things one must give up, but that it paid many fold. He cautioned aginst starting the christian life as a mere matter of emotion, altho emotion had its proper place. Dr. Kirby made a stirring appeal to make the adventure not with standing the cost, and at its close the altar was again filled with seekers. It was perhaps the greatest meeting yet held. The interest has deepened and wnened until people are coming from several miles around. The Epworth League was present in a body as was also C. M. Williams' class.

The forthcoming wedding of Princess Mary recalls one of the customs attaching to marriages in the English royalty family. This relates to the bouquet and the wedding cake. Ever since the marriage of Queen Victoria a firm of Windsor florists has had the honor of presenting the one, a Chester confectioner finding the other, neither accepting payment.

ELYRIA UNDERWEIGHT SCHOOL CHILDREN TO GET FREE MILK

Superintendent Shelton reported to the board of education yesterday that a recent survey of the schools by Miss Bockman, the school nurse had developed that there were many underweight children in the schools. This condition she reported was caused by a number of things, such as undernourishment, or the lack of tissue building food. Such cases were in the families of the poor and rich alike.

The attention of the child welfare committees of the Woman's Civic club has been called to it, and they had agreed to conduct an experiment at the Gatford school. Some fifty or sixty underweight children were being given a glass of milk twice a day. The milk comes from the city dairies in half pint bottles, and the child is given a glass at recess time, drinking it through straws. The children are to be weighed regularly as the experiment progresses. This plan was started last Thursday and will be conducted for three months, the Civic club bearing the expense. It will end in three months. If it proves a success the board may adopt it in all the schools.

There are cases in the schools at present where children are evidently undernourished, and the teachers are seeing to it that the child is given milk, and the board paying the expense.

Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble

Tried Mt Clemens and Various Remedies—No Relief

Until he used Nerv-Worth and then he reports that he got well very quickly. That is because rheumatism usually comes from disordered stomach and bowels and once you eliminate the poisons from the system and restore the stomach and bowels to their normal functions the rheumatism dizziness headaches and other ills will disappear That is what Mr S D Hoov[er] of North Canton O, told a Nerv Worth representative this great family remedy did for him The doctors said he would have to go to a hospital for a long and expensive course of treatment which might possibly make him well Instead of that he followed the advice of a friend and bought a bottle of Nerv-Worth for a dollar and it did him so much good he kept on using it until he was well

Most druggists sell Nerv-Worth You would do well to give it a trial It is always for sale in this city at the C W Phillips Broad St drug store and every druggist is authorized to give the money back if the results from the first bottle are not encouraging It is splendid for growing children when constipated nervous and run down They like its pleasant taste —Advt

WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray streaked and faded hair is grandmother s recipe and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color which is quite sensible as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is the greatest advantage

Nowadays though we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product improved by the addition of other ingredients called Wyeth s Sage and Sulphur Compound' It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive —Adv

DANGER OF JUST LETTING A COLD RUN ITS COURSE

Public Warned to Beware of a Three Days' Cough and Break It Up Before It's Too Late, by Taking Kurokol, the New Scientific Discovery

Money Refunded If Kurokol Fails to Bring Relief

Leading authorities are using every effort to arouse the public to the danger of letting common colds just run their course for it is definitely known that many serious lung complications such as pneumonia, grippe, etc., develop from colds that hang on persistently.

Colds are curable and preventable, and Kurokol provides the safest, surest and quickest, as well as the most practical treatment for colds yet discovered.

Kurokol is almost magical in its effect. The first dose usually stops the tendency to sneezing and coughing, and relieves the feeling of discomfort, and the second and third doses usually suffice to stop the progress of a cold altogether.

The wonderful efficiency of Kurokol is best shown by the fact that all druggists are instructed to refund money where it fails to give satisfactory results.—Advt.

What Mother Graham [illegible]

I PUT dear Katie's [illegible] farewell and looked at Lillian [illegible]ly. There is no other [illegible] save tragedy or sickness to [illegible] date family to be conquered. In a woman's mind, with the sudden [illegible] from her daily horizon of a faithful maid. And with my mind relieved from the dread of something serious having happened to her, I quaked at the prospect in store for me without her.

"She's gone!" I said at last, with the banal reiteration with which one so often meets disaster.

"So it appears," Lillian [illegible] agreed gently, and I saw that her [illegible] already busy with whatever [illegible] tions Katie's unceremonious [illegible] might bring to the mysterious problem she was facing.

With a sudden flash of hope I looked at my wrist watch.

"We can get that train if we hurry!" I exclaimed. "Katie, of course, didn't expect that we'd be up so early, or she wouldn't have named her train. But we can catch her."

I started for the door, but Lillian's restraining hand was on my arm before I had reached it.

"Sorry, dear girl," she said regretfully, "but I must ask you to let her go, and come with me instead to get hold of Dr. Pettit. You do not know, and I cannot now tell you, just why that man in the hospital must be watched until I can make suitable arrangements for his guarding. Katie is worth nothing to me now as far as this work is concerned, for her lips are sealed by that oath she took.

Mother Graham Appears.

"And if you'll stop to think a minute," Lillian went on swiftly, "she will be worth nothing—minus a considerable quantity—to you, until she gets over this brain-storm about Jim. Just imagine what you would be up against with Katie, morbid, weepy and tempery, lined up against your mother-in-law's moods. Nay, now, child! Subsidize the gifted Mrs. Ticer. If you have to pay her double for the heavy work, and you and I will pitch in and do housework for a little spell. We'll make everybody help, including Dicky, and picnic for awhile."

As she talked we had tacitly walked away from Katie's room, Lillian closing the door after us. And when she finished, we were back in the spotless kitchen, which seemed to my disappointed eyes a dreary enough place without the accustomed cheery pres[illegible]

[illegible]

"[illegible] Your Stumps."

"What does this mean?" she [illegible] frowningly. "Where's Katie?"

I looked appealingly at Lillian, [illegible] ly leaving the explanation to her. [illegible] in a few crisp, succinct sentences [illegible] explained Katie's absence, adroitly [illegible] ferring to the "government work" which would necessitate our immediate departure for town, thus setting my mother-in-law in such a romantic enthusiastic flutter that she considered the question of Katie with far less irritation than I had feared.

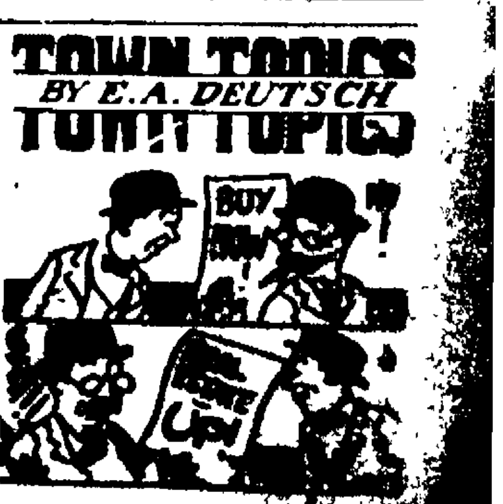

"Just what you might expect from that ape," she said contemptuously. "After all we've done for her, too. But then there isn't one of 'em that has a bit of gratitude or decency, anyway. It's no use expecting anything else."

With which unjust but consistent characteristic tirade she banished Katie from her horizon and turned practically to a consideration of what was next to be done.

"You have to go right away, without waiting for breakfast," she addressed Lillian, but I answered.

"Yes, but, mother, there's no need for you to do anything about breakfast. You know, neither Dicky nor Elizabeth will be down for a couple of hours, and we'll be back in time for me to get it. Then I'll go for Mrs. Ticer."

"When I need your help or anybody's in getting up a breakfast, Margaret," she said tartly, "I'll let you know about it. Have Mrs. Ticer come over later in the morning. I can't be bothered with her around my feet this morning. And now stir your stumps, both of you, and get out of my road."

MR. MC ADOO ON THE RAILROADS

A few days ago Wm. G. McAdoo, former Director General of the railroads, presented some figures to the inter-state commerce committee of the senate. Mr. McAdoo stated to the committee that the railroad executives, during the first six months after federal control, when the roads were guaranteed against any loss, made unprecedented and excessive expenditures for improvements. He declared that this was done at the expense of the federal treasury.

He said that the maintenance of way equipment, and maintenance of way construction, for the guaranty period, exceeded the same period of the previous year by more than forty per cent, or a round sum amounting to four hundred and two million, seven hundred and fifty eight thousand dollars. In as much as the total cost of the guaranty by the government amounted to approximately five hundred and twenty-five millions of dollars, if the figures of Mr. McAdoo are correct, it can easily be seen that four fifths of the amount of the guaranty is due to the excess expenditure.

Secretary McAdoo supported his statement by a letter written by the president of the Central Railroad of New Jersey to his superintendent of motive power. This particular letter related to fifty new locomotives, and in this letter the president said to his superintendent: "I hope that you will have this work pushed to the very limit in the matter of early completion, so that we may have their bills within the shortest possible time—certainly before September 1, 1920, at which time the guaranteed period expires. Please have the locomotive companies thoroughly understand that time is the essence of this entire matter, for reasons above indicated."

The facts presented by Mr. McAdoo make a terrific indictment of the railroads, as it shows a determination on their part to build up the road owned by private parties at the expense of the public treasury.

A matter of equal importance to the people of the country was the figures which Mr. McAdoo presented, in which he showed that the actual monitory cost to our people, in private control over federal control, aggregated six hundred and fifty-seven millions of dollars.

Many of the railroad men themselves admitted that unless this guaranty works in a way that is beneficial, that government ownership, or at least government control, is bound to result.

Taking these statements, and judging them in the light of Mr. McAdoo's figures, one would naturally conclude that if the railroads cannot build up their capital, privately owned, at the expense of all the people through the treasury, that they would like to unload them in some way upon the government.

Our transportation cost enters into almost every article of consumption, certainly every article which is commercialized.

We all admit that the railroads must serve our industrial and commercial institutions, that they are the arteries of our economic life. They are now operating under a law which certainly is as favorable to the railroad companies' interest as can be devised by our congress.

All will probably agree that if the Esch-Cummins law does not meet the situation, that some phase of more complete federal direction must.

WILL HE BE RELEASED?

We note the dispatches carry the news that one Joseph B. Rose, now serving a four months' sentence at Canton, for illicit liquor traffic, is endeavoring to obtain a pardon from the President.

He has the signatures of several prominent party men to his application for such pardon.

Rose was prominent for quite a number of years in politics in the city of Cleveland, as a Republican, and this probably explains why certain leaders attached their names to his application for a pardon.

We cannot help remembering the position which President Roosevelt took in relation to party men who violated the law. He said, "A man who violates the law is not a Republican, he is not a Democrat, but he is a criminal, and Republicans and Democrats who are guilty of consideration are not criminals."

We are confident that this attitude certainly will not make Republicans party, as such, and we doubt seriously if it will be effective in obtaining Mr. Rose's release.

Mrs. Chas. Cook,

Dear Sister:

Received your letter and glad to hear you were all well

We are all doing fine. I am with the M. & M. Mfg. Co., at Wilmington.

This is the harbor of Los Angeles We have a shop in the shore and are doing marine engine and other marine work.

We are figuring on going to Roscoe That is a new allotment, 5 miles each way from Burbank and San Fernando And Burbank is 14 miles northwest of Los Angeles. We have an offer of a piece of land 90x290 if we will come up there.

We had a "freeze" here last week and about 50 per cent of the orange and lemon crop has been destroyed The loss is estimated at about 17 million dollars, although I think that is high But it is enough to put an awful crimp in this country for months and perhaps years to come The last big freeze was in 1913 and it took five years to recover from it And now another and also we may have another one yet It's cold and wet today A drizzling rain is falling Of course you have lived in this state and know more of the conditions and how cold it gets in the winter I don't know, but it is about as well to be frozen entirely as half frozen for about the same length of time I don't like it as well near the seashore as I do here.

I hear that Ford Loomis is in Redlands I should go over there today if it hadn't rained.

Met a man last Tuesday in Los Angeles who knew McKisson in Cleveland
